

Into the Wild Week #3

Discussion Questions:

Conversation Starter: What is your favorite body of water you have visited?

Our discussion questions are designed to create conversation for every life group. When thinking about the spiritual tenor of your group (new believers or seasoned followers) read through the different levels below and pick out questions that will best fit your group. You can read and pick questions from all 3 levels or just one.

First Stop:

- Is there anything in your life that needs to move from last resort to first choice? Discuss the choices and decisions it takes to prioritize the right things.
- Where have you seen having a relationship with God help you flourish and bring nourishment to your life?
- What do you find yourself running to for satisfaction and fulfillment outside of God?
- Knowing that praise often precedes a breakthrough, what do you need to do to worship God in the middle of your waiting?

Mile Markers:

- Why do you think we try to get ahead of God and provide the things we think we should have and manufacture in our own ability?
- In our lives, a lot of the time a miracle can be in motion, but we are waiting for it to develop. What are some truths you need to hold onto so you don't give up?
- How do you navigate when relationships or the world around you is trying to make you doubt what God has already promised you? What is your natural response to those voices?

Destination:

- What blessings have you seen established in your life as you have made God the true source of your life?
- What have been some barriers you have encountered on your way to God's promises in your life and how did you combat them?
- What advice and truths have you given to those around you when they are facing a waiting season?
